What's Inside?

This book is filled with 50 full-color photographs of everyday objects, animals, and people. Each photograph is accompanied by a simple riddle or question that encourages children to use their critical thinking skills to guess the answer.

For example, one picture might show a close-up of a furry animal with a long tail. The riddle could be: "I have a long tail and I love to climb trees. What am I?" The answer, of course, is a monkey.

Benefits of This Book

There are many benefits to using this book with young children, including:

- Enhances vocabulary: The simple riddles and questions in this book encourage children to learn new words and expand their vocabulary.
